

and the sun has not risen, yet and x ways to this way and in conversations
and all different dishes and not before
and from those in any given instant and well met, well met and missing shadows
and no lines sleep
and not wanting to tell a tale and not equal
and still no
and a dual existence
and this, that just goes on and on and not knowing when and slashes dashes and parentheses and all that knowledge and not for ever more or less and the one from which we came and the/your/my
and not after
and narrative
and probably more
and to try to reconcile and so and so and so
and middle takings
and men, kin, beloved
and space
and not knowing then and so they can be used again, someday and my own defensive attitudes and another song
and hold through it
and fading from black
and i still know
and i miss
and starting without you and during it all
and staggering
and further on
and less like night
and not an answer
and more like morning
and foundation
and our whole direction and during
and can't do
and it's a no go
and before it all
and the built mast
and not a word
and yes, go
and here he tried and wanted men
and having never spoken another and changes of shape
